Recruiting and Protecting: We Can All Improve Our Future

The two main obligations of business managers and business agents are to 1) supply signatory contractors with the skilled union roofers they need, and 2) protect our work jurisdiction, so that we provide maximum work hours for the membership of our union. The duties of a union business representative are many, but when you get up in the morning if supplying manpower and protecting our jurisdiction aren't your main priorities, you are in the wrong job.

As elected representatives, we realize that our world and the roofing and waterproofing industry are changing, and changing rapidly. But what isn't changing is our obligation to make sure the members of this union have safe and plentiful employment and reach out to the communities around us to bring new workers into our fold.

Today, the demand for workers in the construction industry is at a high level and we find ourselves competing with other trades for a shrinking pool of workers that have the rudiments to do our work. Recruiting is hard work! But it is absolutely necessary if we expect to compete and expand our opportunities.

We must get out on the street to strip skilled workers from the non-union sector and recruit young men and women that are potential candidates for apprenticeship. Recruiting and retaining women and minorities are two of the best ways to address the problem of a critical worker shortage.

I call on all members of our union to be willing to speak to young people as well as non-union roofers about what our union can do for them. By helping others get involved with our union, you are helping yourself, the contractors and your fellow union brothers and sisters. When a contractor calls the hall for manpower, they have the expectation and right to receive the number and quality of workers they seek.

It is crucial that we claim and manage all work processes coming under the jurisdiction of the Roofer and Waterproofers. We need to pay close attention, and do whatever it takes, to maintain our involvement in the application and maintenance of all forms of work coming under our jurisdiction. It is not good enough that we simply claim single-ply and built-up roofing systems. We must be extremely diligent and claim all of our work, including waterproofing and dampproofing systems, garden and vegetative roofs, PV shingles, air and vapor barriers, roof vacuuming, cool or reflective roof coatings, and membranes laminated with solar collectors. Only trained Roofers and Waterproofers have the knowledge and skills to maintain the integrity of these roofing systems.

Here again all members have a responsibility in protecting their work. When you see a project being performed by non-union workers or another craft, call your business representative immediately so that he or she may attempt to resolve the issue in favor of the Roofer.

As a union, we have a responsibility to protect our members and the work processes that rightfully belong to them, and service our signatory contractors. I ask all union officers and members to commit yourselves to being vigilant in claiming and protecting our work so that the United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers and Allied Workers and its members will always be strong and independent. ■

Las Vegas a Summertime Hot Spot for Roofers

Roofing professionals gathered at Paris Las Vegas Hotel and Casino for the 45th Western Roofing Expo, held June 9 – 11, 2019. Contractors from across the Western U.S. stopped by the booth manned by reps from Roofers International and Research & Education Trust to catch up and discuss industry issues particularly relevant to the area.

While relationships were being forged at the Expo, there was plenty of work for members of Roofers & Waterproofers Local 162 in Las Vegas. From Allegiant Stadium (future home of the Las Vegas Raiders) to Circa (downtown Las Vegas's newest casino), it's a sure bet that Las Vegas Roofers will be busy for the foreseeable future. ■

REPLACES ROOF ON HARVARD'S HISTORIC
SANDERS THEATRE

The imposing High Victorian Gothic building known as Memorial Hall sits immediately north of Harvard Yard on the campus of Harvard University in Cambridge, MA. Completed in 1878, it was originally built in honor of the sacrifices made by Harvard men in defense of the Union during the American Civil War.

This summer the talented members of Roofers Local 33, Boston, MA, working for signatory contractor Gilbert & Becker Co., Inc., replaced the roofing at the polygonal Sanders Theatre-end of the building. They removed the original 1870s slate, which then had to be matched to maintain the integrity of the design of the hall, which was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1970. The three colors of slate came from Quebec, Vermont and New York.

After roof removal, Local 33 roofers put on all the required underlayments, which included ice and water shields and asphalt paper. Reference points were placed on the roof so they could replicate the original design of the tiles.

The roofers were given 16 weeks over the summer for the project. Following an aggressive schedule that included lots of overtime and weekends, they completed it in just over 14 weeks. The timeframe and exacting standards were ambitious but achievable for the Local 33 crew. "I do a lot of slate roofs," said project Foreman Tony DeMelo, "but this one was probably the most challenging yet." The crew consisted of John Cuccinotta, Sean Newhall, Rick Foster, Jerry Ledoux, Nate Cuevas, Dave Cuevas, Jose Rivera, David Tracy, Kenneth Williams, Mark Lerner, Jim Szikny.

After the scaffolding came down, it looked as if time had stood still for Sanders Theatre for nearly the last century and a half. Thanks to the talented workmanship of Local 33 Roofers, the slate roof is new and modern but looks just like it did in 1878. ■

Secretary-Treasurer's Letter

BY JIM HADEL, INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY-TREASURER

Members: Empower Yourself!

During my tenure as an officer on both the local and International level, I have always believed that membership education and communication is vital to the success of our organization. As leaders, our jobs is to represent the membership. In order to do so, however, members in turn have certain responsibilities to their local union.

Effective leadership can only go so far. It takes a well-educated and cooperative membership to build a strong organization. In that regard, I have outlined what I believe are eight key member responsibilities. Having a clear understanding of your local union and the benefits it has to offer, and participating in the democracy of the organization, is beneficial to you as a member.

› Update contact information

One of the most common mistakes is when members fail to update their contact information (home address, phone number, email address and marital status) with the local union and their benefit plans administrator. This is extremely important in regards to pension and health and welfare benefits, in addition to the local union being able to contact you for employment opportunities.

› Stay current on membership dues

The payment of dues and remaining a member in good standing is the member's responsibility, as stated in Article III Section 1 (e) of the International Constitution. It is not the responsibility of your local union to notify you if you are delinquent. They may do so as a courtesy to their membership, which I strongly encourage, but the ultimate responsibility falls on the member.

› Attend membership meetings

Attend your local's union meetings as often as possible, and not just during contract negotiations. The most frustrating complaint we hear from local union leaders is membership apathy. Become knowledgeable about your local union's endeavors. Voice your thoughts or opinions in a respectful manner. It is your union—be a part of its growth and success.

› Understand your benefits

Negotiated benefits—such as health and welfare coverage and pension plans, either on a local or national level—were established to provide you and your family the comfort of medical coverage when needed and retirement security in your later years. As a plan participant, it is your responsibility to have a basic understanding of the plan rules and regulations. Summary plan descriptions (SPDs), which are provided to participants of these plans, will provide the information essential for you to become knowledgeable.

› Understand the local collective bargaining agreement

The collective bargaining agreement (CBA) between the local's signatory contractors and its membership defines conditions of employment (wages, working hours and conditions, overtime payments, holidays, benefits, etc.) and procedures for dispute resolution. Members should have a clear understanding of the agreement. More importantly, the CBA gives you the ability to have a voice at the jobsite. Participate in the negotiating process and exercise your right to vote on your agreements.

› Understand the constitution and by-laws

The union's constitution contains the fundamental principles that govern its operation. The by-laws establish the specific rules of guidance by which the union is to function. As a member, you have certain responsibilities and rights. Having a clear understanding of your local and International constitution and by-laws will clarify those rights and responsibilities.

› Professional Code of Conduct and Standards of Mutual Responsibility

The Professional Code of Conduct and Standards of Mutual Responsibility (Code of Conduct) was adopted at the 2008 International Convention for local unions to promote and elicit the highest job performance standards from our members on jobs performed by our signatory contractors.

› Work Safely

Most importantly, it is your responsibility to work safely for yourself, your family and our union. ■

BY MITCH TERHAAR, DIRECTOR OF JURISDICTION AND SPECIAL AGREEMENTS

Model CBA and Constitution for Local Unions Available

Over the last six months and with the assistance of President Robinson, Secretary-Treasurer Hadel and our legal counsel, Librado Arreola, we have put together both a model collective bargaining agreement and a constitution and by-laws to assist local unions.

These agreements have been renewed with updated language to help modernize your local union documents.

The model collective bargaining agreement contains:

- the newest work jurisdiction,
- trust agreement language, and
- union security language.

We also included a variety of contract clauses that locals may want to use to update or add in their future contacts.

The updated constitution and by-laws will now include:

- new insurance language,
- new audit language, and
- exchange-traded funds (ETF) language for any local unions doing money transfers.

We recognized the need to have these documents available to the local unions as they start the task of updating their local CBAs and constitutions and by-laws to meet the resolution changes made at our 2018 convention.

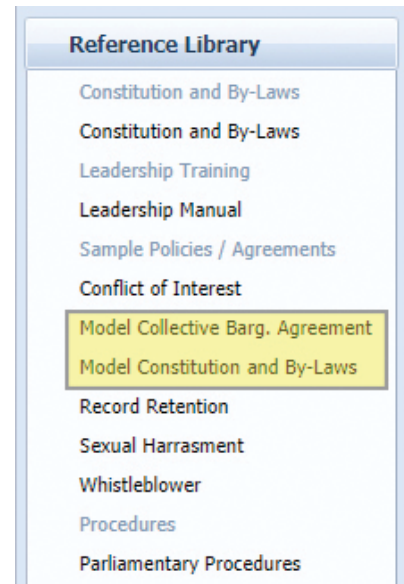

The model collective bargaining agreement and constitution and by-laws are available in the Reference Library in the local union CRR program, or they can be obtained by email if requested. If the local is looking for some specific language for their contract that is not in these documents, please contact me at our International Office at (202) 463-7663.

Get to Know Your Local Building Trades

Just as important as updating your local union agreements is participating in your local building trades council—for some locals unions, that means several councils. The building trades council is the connecting link for success for our local unions.

The council meetings are where local union leaders come together to share ideas and make decisions for the advancement of the trade unions in that jurisdiction. It is where business managers build working relationships with general contractors and business owners, which grows market

No More Newspapers

In this space, we have discussed recruiting several times over the last few years. Many locals have been able to attract both new roofers and apprentices for our signatory contractors. Some have even been successful in bringing back former members.

As leaders of your local unions, you have many jobs, and in my opinion two of the most important jobs are representing your members and supplying manpower to your signatory contractors. As we grow and times change, we must adapt our recruiting and training methods.

Many years ago, recruiting was simply our fathers telling us to go down to the union hall, get signed up and go to work. We have several generations of fathers, sons, daughters and extended family who entered our trade or other trades doing exactly that. That is starting to change.

Not so long ago we would place ads in the local newspaper, which would result in attracting the workers that we needed. But those newspaper ads are no longer successful, and often the newspaper itself is long gone. We used to use the employment office, but this method is now difficult and often restricted due to anti-union sentiment across our country. High schools and vocational schools were once a great place to recruit new workers, fresh out of school looking to go to work, but this has changed also. High schools now prepare students mainly for college—not to go into the workforce. If you are in an area that still has a vocational school, take advantage of that. Meet with the principal and guidance counselor to explain the benefits of a Roofers apprenticeship. They will introduce you to these kids. Most students at vocational schools are ready to go into the work force.

Most of the resources we used in the past have dried up. So how do we find new roofers and waterprooferers? We change our tactics to today's methods.

Advertisements still work, but these days it's online through social media. Facebook ads, for example, reach a large audience because many people share the information. There may be an expense involved for a professional-looking recruiting campaign, but it's no different than several years ago when we paid for a newspaper ad to attract workers.

The employment office is a little more of a challenge. We aren't an employer, so we may need to use a signatory contractor to get an ad with the employment office. We also need to target students who tried college but found it wasn't the right fit. Connect with all the colleges in your area—community colleges and universities, big and small, and especially those that have construction programs.

Rank and file members, you also have some responsibility in finding new members. Your livelihood is at stake, since these new members help fund your pension and health and welfare. Attend your union meetings to make sure local leadership is doing its job, and help train new members on how to be a good member and a good roofer or waterproofer. Our apprenticeship programs do a great job training, but most learning is done on the job. Mentoring can be done prior to work or at lunch or break time. Mentor one of the new members. Explain the importance of attending union meetings, showing up to work every day, on time, and volunteering in the community you live in. Take an active role to help maintain your pension, health insurance and wages. Your very way of life depends on it!

We look forward to helping you find new members. ■

West Coast Roofers & Waterproofer Apprenticeship Competition

Livermore, CA, was the location where the 9th Annual West Coast Roofers Apprenticeship Competition took place. Director Dan Smith and staff hosted the competition, which included 30 apprentices competing from six different locals spanning from Southern California to Portland, OR.

The apprentices displayed their skills in multiple roofing systems, including:

- waterproofing,
- heat welding,
- shingles,
- torch-down,
- coatings, and
- tool identification.

As the event began, apprentices were split up into groups according to skill level: intermediate or advanced. With a brief explanation of the rules and some safety reminders, the apprentices started getting busy.

Friends, family, past participants, business agents and union representatives were in attendance showing their support to the participants and to training. All in attendance enjoyed a delicious lunch and the award ceremony. Congratulations to the overall winners, and thanks to all who participated and supported the event.

THE CENTER FOR CONSTRUCTION

LADDERS

Am I in danger?

If you use a ladder on a construction site, then the answer is YES.

Falls are the leading cause of deaths and injuries in the construction industry.

- Each year, more than 4,000 construction workers are injured so seriously by ladder falls that they miss work.
- Each year, about 70 construction workers DIE in falls from ladders.

Electrocution Hazard

Falls aren't the only way to get hurt on a ladder!

Contact with overhead power lines can be fatal. Make sure your ladder is positioned at least 10 feet away from power lines.

Aluminum conducts electricity. Fiberglass is a better choice when working near electricity.

A painter was electrocuted when a metal ladder came in contact with a powerline.

To learn more visit:

Call 301-578-8500

To avoid a fall ...

Not every defect is this obvious

1 Inspect the ladder before every use

Inspect the rails, rungs, feet, and spreaders or rung locks of your ladder for defects or damage every time you use it. If you see any damage, tag it “do not use” and request another ladder in proper working order. Always check your ladder's duty rating to make sure it will support you and your toolbelt!

The minute you take to tie off could save your life.

2 Position your ladder properly

For all ladders:

- Make sure you have level, solid footing for your ladder.
- Position the ladder near your work to avoid overreaching.

For extension ladders:

- Set the base one foot away from the building for every four feet of height.
- Tie off the ladder at the top – and bottom where possible!

3 Use the ladder safely

- Maintain three-point contact with the ladder at all times.
- Do not stand on the top two rungs of a stepladder, or the top four rungs of an extension ladder.
- Have your partner hold the ladder to steady it as you climb up and down
- Don't carry tools and materials while climbing. Use a rope to haul or hoist materials to the upper level!

Is a ladder the right tool for the job?

For work at heights, consider using a scaffold or aerial lift. The wider work platform and guard rails can reduce your risk of falls.

If you think you are in danger:

Contact your supervisor.
Contact your union.

Call OSHA

National Roofers Union & Employers Joint Health & Welfare Fund Chronic Conditions Management Program

Chronic conditions are diseases that last one year or more and require ongoing medical attention. These conditions are common and costly, and they are often tied to multiple other conditions. In fact, according to one study, approximately 71% of the total health care spending in the United States is associated with care for those with more than one chronic condition. As Trustees of the National Roofers Union and Employers Joint Health and Welfare Fund, we are here to help manage your chronic conditions. We have partnered with Cigna to provide a dedicated chronic care management program known as Your Health First.

Your Health First provides comprehensive and personalized coaching support for individuals with chronic conditions. If you have a chronic health condition, you know there are times when you may need extra support. We know it, too. Phone coaching services through Your Health First are available to help at no extra cost to you.

Taking part in the program offers some great advantages. You have access to your own personal health coach to help you manage and create a plan that works for you and your time schedule at your own pace. Chronic conditions receive condition-specific education and support tailored to meet your needs.

If you're looking for extra help with your chronic health condition, a dedicated health coach can help improve the management of your condition by helping you:

- › Create a plan to help manage your condition
- › Understand medications or doctor's orders
- › Identify health risks for your condition
- › Make educated treatment decisions
- › Know what to expect in the hospital
- › Cope with stress, quit tobacco, and manage weight (nutrition, exercise and maintaining a positive mood)

If you have a chronic condition, your participation in the program will first begin when a Cigna team member reaches out to you via phone call. If you have a chronic condition and have not yet received a phone call, you may dial the number on the back of your ID card at any time and speak to a representative who will verify if you are eligible for this program. ■

Local 96 Members Roof Lambeau Field

Jamar Company, a Local 96 contractor from Green Bay, WI, was recently awarded work on Lambeau Field in Green Bay, home of the Green Bay Packers.

Jamar Company has been a signatory Local 96 contractor for many years out of Duluth, MN, but expanded their operations to include a Green Bay, WI, roofing branch in April 2018. It was a joint effort between Local 96, the Northeast WI Building Trades Council, Jamar Company and Miron Construction to create this opportunity. Hopefully union roofing contractors are working to keep Lambeau Field dry for many years to come!

The union members working on the project were Steve McDermott (foreman), Kirby Hull, Brian Liedtke, Robert Tasch and Ryan Gloede. ■

Albany Roofers Work on The Egg

Employees of Roofers & Waterproofers Local 241, Albany, NY, signatory contractor Titan Roofing Inc. work on The Egg Center for Performing Arts in downtown Albany, applying an elastomeric roof coating manufactured by Kemper Systems. Kemper Systems is a leader in cold, liquid-applied, reinforced roofing and waterproofing technologies.

Named for its shape, The Egg is a performing arts venue built in 1966 in historic Empire State Plaza in Albany and owned by not-for-profit Nelson A. Rockefeller Empire State Plaza Performing Arts Center Corporation. The Corporation presents performances, spotlights emerging artists, fosters relationships with resident companies, and enhances activities in cultural and arts education. ■

Local 12 Roofers Apply Green Roof

Roofers working for Local 12, Bridgeport, CT, signatory contractor United Roofing and Sheet Metal, Inc., did a nice job of roofing a building at Fairfield University. One of the main reasons why the university uses union labor is because this is a vegetative roof, which requires the roof structure to be applied by highly skilled roofers and waterproofers. ■

PORTLAND ROOFERS TURN OUT TO HELP RETIRED MEMBER

Members of Roofers & Waterproofers Local 49 out of Portland, OR, performed a volunteer job for retired member Gene Lennox. Brother Lennox was in need of a new roof, so volunteers tore off three layers and installed Malarkey shingles on his home.

James Hale, Rosa Rivera, Jim Hale, Darrel Scott, Snuffy Jones, Jeremy Olney, Donny Stevens, Jason Barthel, Doug Aldrich, Russ Garnett and Kevin Tomaszewski performed the labor. ABC Roofing and Umpqua Roofing donated trucks. A special thanks to those who came from ABC Roofing, Snyder Roofing and the union hall to donate their time for a fellow member. ■

Childcare Center Receives New Roof Thanks to Toledo Building Trades

More than a dozen volunteers started working at 5 a.m. on a Saturday to replace the roof at Mom's House in Toledo. The previous roof was rotting and unsafe since it hadn't been replaced in 21 years.

Workers from Roofers Local 134 and other local building trades unions ripped off shingles under the hot sun. "We have an air conditioning area, which doesn't happen on most jobs, and we can rotate guys in and out. We have plenty of Gatorade, plenty of water, and we have snacks for the guys," said Local 134 Business Manager Michael Kujawa.

Volunteers believe building this roof is important because of the work Mom's House does for local families. Mom's House has spent the last 25 years providing a place for single parents to go with their kids while finishing their education. "This roof has a lot of meaning because the dollar amount we're looking at is about $6,000 of free labor and materials," said Mom's House Executive Director Christina Rodriguez. ■

A new roof is installed over the course of two weekends.

Chicago Roofers Play Ball for Diabetes Research

A team of top-condition athletes from Local 11, Chicago, IL, got together for good cause over the summer when they competed in a softball tournament to fundraise for D.a.D.'s Day. Dollars Against Diabetes is an annual campaign organized by North America's Building Trades Unions that raises donations for diabetes research through bucket collections, walkathons, motorcycle rallies, golf tournaments and more. ■

Mayor Declares "Union Day" in Henryetta, Oklahoma

September 30 now will be known as "Union Day" in Henryetta, OK, according to a proclamation signed by Henryetta Mayor Jennifer Clason as a result of the USA's Work Boots on the Ground project at the city's Nichols Park last year.

In a fantastic display of solidarity and community service, more than 100 volunteers representing 22 unions—including Roofers Local 143 in Oklahoma City—joined together and donated their skills and more than 2,000 hours to completely transform the park.

Using funds raised at the USA's Oklahoma AFL-CIO Conservation Dinner for materials and equipment, volunteers replaced a pavilion roof, improved lighting, replaced and fixed park benches and picnic tables, cleared overgrown areas and replaced an unsafe fishing pier with an ADA-compliant floating pier.

"What was done in a few hours by the unions would have taken months for the city crews to complete or even begin. The fishing dock would have been years out, if even on the radar, due to the dilapidated infrastructure our city faces," said Henryetta Mayor Jennifer Clason. "We will be forever thankful to the Union Sportsmen's Alliance for making this project happen without cost to our city. It was truly amazing to see our park transformed from a work in progress to a fairytale dream getaway." ■

Int'l President Kinsey Robinson Honored with USA's Lifetime Achievement Award

The Union Sportsmen's Alliance (USA) is proud to announce that one of its co-founders and current board members, Kinsey Robinson, international president of the United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers & Allied Workers, has been honored with the organization's Lifetime Achievement Award.

The award recognizes Robinson's leadership and service to the USA going back to the very beginning. In 2002 he was among a handful of union leaders who recognized that they should provide union members something beyond a secure future through collective bargaining—something that touched their personal and family lives in a meaningful way.

"Kinsey Robinson is one of the founding fathers of the USA," said USA CEO and Executive Director Scott Vance. "He's one of the guys who came up with the idea of a union-based conservation organization."

The idea that was born in '02 became a reality in 2007 with the launch of the Union Sportsmen's Alliance. Today the organization boasts nearly 300,000 members, each with the common goal of preserving North America's outdoor heritage.

Under the USA's Work Boots on the Ground (WBG) program, union members donate their time and skills to restore and improve public recreational lands and waters in their communities, as well as to organize youth conservation and fishing activities, such as the Get Youth Outdoors Day events Robinson feels might be most important of all.

Robinson sees it as a debt people today must pay to ensure the future. "We owe it to our youth to pass on our traditions and heritage of hunting, fishing and spending time in the great outdoors," he said. "If we don't preserve wildlife and the environment, they, and their own children, won't have it to enjoy." ■

Union Insurance Group Receives USA Corporate Achievement Award

The Union Sportsmen's Alliance (USA) has awarded founding partner Union Insurance Group (UIG) the organization's prestigious Diamond Life Corporate Achievement Award. The award is presented to industry partners that surpass the $1 million donor mark in supporting the USA's mission to unite the union community through outdoor conservation.

Along with providing financial support for the USA's shooting tour, conservation dinners and other events, UIG has also taken a "helpful, hands-on position by sending representatives to many of those same events," said

USA CEO & Executive Director Scott Vance.

"Supporting the labor movement is profoundly important to Union Insurance Group," said UIG President Chris DeCaigny, "and we are honored to receive this award from the Union Sportsmen's Alliance." ■

Minutes of the Northwest District Council

The meeting of the Northwest District Council of Roofers was held April 13, 2019, in Tacoma, WA.

Delegates in Attendance:

President Russ Garnett and Travis Hopkins, Local 49, Portland, OR; Vice President Steve Hurley and Secretary-Treasurer Gregg Gibeau, Local 54, Seattle, WA; Trustee Leo Marsura, Local 189, Spokane, WA; Richard Geyer, Local 153, Tacoma, WA.

Guests in Attendance:

David Herbrand and Andrew Stark, Local 153; Tony Kimbrough, Local 54; Attorney Robert A. Bohrer.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read. Motion was made, seconded and carried to accept the minutes as read.

Reports of Delegates and Guests

Steve Hurley, Local 54, said 2019 represents Local 54's 100-year anniversary. To commemorate, the local sent gifts to the members, including a special pin and book. Work has been slower than previous springs due to weather and several big project completions. Sound Transit projects continue to provide work for members. Northgate shopping mall is being redeveloped in conjunction with Seattle's new NHL franchise. He anticipates the project will be built union and/or under a project labor agreement.

Leo Marsura, Local 189, has been organizing in the Spokane/Yakima areas and in Missoula, Montana. They have been volunteering to do OSHA 10 training for the Skilled Trades Preparation Program and have gained two women applicants for the apprenticeship program by doing this outreach. Negotiations are this year. Officer elections will be in June with all positions open. Local 189 endorsed several candidates for Spokane city council and Ben Stuckart for mayor, who has worked with us on apprenticeship and has been a strong union supporter.

Richard Geyer, Local 153, discussed the raise that went into effect in February. Local 153 signed two new contractors, GCI and Preferred Roof Services. The local is hosting a barbeque in July. He has filed prevailing wage complaints on two companies. He will attend CERTA train-the-trainer class this summer.

Travis Hopkins, Local 49, discussed some new organizing methods. They placed ads in depressed areas of the state to get a labor pool started. They formed a labor-management committee to get the contractors to use workers from the area to protect the Oregon market. Val Hoyle, the state labor commissioner, has been putting pressure on large companies to use in-state, union labor for their projects. We need more champions in government like her.

Attorney Robert A. Bohrer spoke about the 100-year anniversary of the Seattle general strike, which resulted in many trades unionizing. About 100,000 people participated and together were able to gain workers' rights. In 1947 the LMRA was enacted that allows for health and welfare, apprenticeship and pension trusts to exist. This law allows him to make sure that what you negotiate is fulfilled by your employers.

International Vice President Doug Ziegler said President Robinson sends his regards. He discussed the challenges of working in areas that are not union-dense, such as off-Strip Las Vegas or Colorado.

Wages are low and the laws make it difficult to organize members. The Roofers Union must come down hard against sexual/gender harassment. We must tell our signatories it will not be tolerated. We are battling with multiple trades over our work and we must stand up for our work.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 5:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Gregg Gibeau
Secretary

Daniel Garcia, Local 95, reported on the increase effective August 1. Work is very busy right now. He reported on the grand opening of the Apple building that was held in May.

I begin this report in Philadelphia, PA, where I met with Local 30 Business Manager Shawn McCullough to travel to Scranton, PA, to meet with area contractors. Then on to Indianapolis, IN, where International Vice President Mike Stiens and I met with another trade regarding trade jurisdiction.

Next in New York, NY, I met with Local 8 Business Manager Nick Siciliano and attended the local's benefit funds trustee meeting. I also met with Local 154, Long Island, NY, Business Manager Sal Giovannello to discuss the status of a delinquent contractor.

Business Manager Dave Critchley and Local 10, Paterson, NJ, Business Manager Nick Strauss to discuss various events mentioned at the building trades meeting.

While in Atlantic City I attended the Northeast District Council of Roofers and Waterproofers meeting hosted by Locals 8, 30 and 154. While there I met with Local 12, Bridgeport, CT, Business Manager Butch Davidson and newly elected Local 9, Hartford, CT, Business Manager Mark Canino to discuss work in their areas. I also presented a plaque to retired Local 9 Business Manager and Northeast District Council Secretary Mike (Pinky) Hassett to thank him for his dedicated years of loyal friendship and service to the local and the council. Congratulations and good luck in your retirement.

In Rochester, NY, I met with Local 22 Business Manager Steve Lambert to attend the local's benefit funds trustee meeting. I also spoke to Local 195, Syracuse, NY, Business Manager Gary Swan and Local 241, Albany, NY, Business Manager Mike Rossi about a signatory contractor for one local traveling to another local's territory to perform work there. I then traveled to Napa, CA, to attend our International Executive Board meeting.

Back in Rochester, NY, I met with area contractors about the need for manpower. I also spoke to Local 74, Buffalo, NY, Business Manager Nick Gchell and Local 203, Binghamton, NY, Business Manager Phil Lester regarding the same issue.

I conclude this report in Philadelphia, PA, where I met with area business agents to discuss apprenticeship recruitment. ■

Report of International Representative Gabriel Perea

I will begin my report in Las Vegas where I was assigned to attend the Western Roofing Expo and tradeshow. I networked with some of the roofing contractors and roofers from the area, as well as some of the union contractors from the Northern and Southern California areas. While in Las Vegas I stopped by Local 162 along with International V.P. Doug Ziegler to take care of day-to-day issues at the local union. I then headed for Arizona where I worked from my home office. I am continually trying to organize roofers to fill manpower needs in our industry; finding more journeyman roofers has proven to be a major task this summer.

I then headed to Local 27, Fresno, CA. The local continues to bring in new apprentices, but the excessive heat and humidity makes it difficult to retain them. I have been very busy over the past few months with apprenticeship meetings, benefit trust meetings, organizing efforts, as well as the day-to-day administration of the local union.

Again this year we were picked for an apprenticeship audit for the Central Valley Apprenticeship Program by the DAS. With the help of Dan Smith we have put a lot of work into becoming compliant with the apprenticeship standards and the DAS office. Our record-keeping for the apprenticeship program has greatly improved.

We are still in search of qualified apprenticeship teachers.

My next trip was to San Diego where Vice President Ziegler assisted me with a negotiations meeting. The contractor we met with is looking to expand his operation outside the state. While in San Diego we met with Local 45 Business Manager Paul Colmenero who is doing a good job, and the local union is doing well.

I returned to Fresno to assume my duties as trustee for Local 27. I have continued to make improvements to the administration and operation of the local, but there are still some minor problems to be addressed. I know that when a member walks in to Local 27 today they see a union office and somebody who is there to assist them with any problems pertaining to union issues. We now have a bilingual secretary who is doing a great job assisting the membership. We have Thomas Geiger who was hired as a compliance officer to increase employment opportunities for both union workers and union contractors through public works enforcement. He is also working as an organizer for the local union. We continue to meet with contractors and non-union roofers to increase employment opportunities. Thomas attends building trades meetings keeps abreast of upcoming projects as well as any PLAs that are being considered.

I will end my report in Las Vegas where I would like to recognize Doug Ziegler, Raul Galaz and Yani Vargas, who have all worked hard trying to find a new building suitable for Local 162 to improve service to the membership. My main focus going forward well is on organizing and addressing issues in Local 27 in Fresno, CA. ■

Report of International Representative Jeff Eppenstein

Iwould like to begin my report at Local 65, Milwaukee, WI, where Instructor Eric Anderson and I met with newly appointed Business Manager Taylor Nelson and spent the week going through Leadership Training. Next I traveled to Washington, DC, to attend the NABTU legislative conference and the International Executive Board meeting.

I met with the Illinois District Council to discuss new pro-worker initiatives being implemented by newly elected Democratic Governor JB Pritzker. It is good to see Illinois is getting back on track protecting unions' and workers' rights. I assisted Local 97, Champaign, IL, Business Manager Darrell Harrison with the local's contract negotiations, and after several meetings we negotiated a fair three-year agreement. I then went to Local 11 in Chicago to attend the retirees' luncheon. This event has grown over the years and it is a great opportunity to honor and engage with our retired members.

My next stop took me to Local 32 in Rock Island, IL, where I met with Business Manager Luis Rivera to go over bookkeeping and membership applications. Back in Chicago I attended Local 11's charity event which has been raising money for veterans and children's foundations. I also attended the office building dedication honoring two of our great past leaders, Earl Kruse and John Martini.

Next to the state of Indiana where I first met with Local 150 Terre Haute Business Manager Clinton Grayless. It was very encouraging to see his efforts cleaning up the union office and his dedication to revamping the local's apprenticeship program. I then attended the Indiana District Council meeting where I met with Locals 23, 26, 42, 106, 119 and 150. The following day I attended the Indiana Council of Roofers Health and Welfare trustee meeting.

Back in Chicago I attended Local 11 and the CRCA's annual scholarship awards dinner where several cash college scholarships were awarded. I then met with International V.P./Local 26 Business Manager Joe Pozzi to discuss many topics related to his area and membership recruitment. I then returned to Local 97 in Champaign to attend the membership meeting and vote on wage allocations from the recently ratified contract.

In Indianapolis, Local 119 Business Manager Glenn Irwin, International Asst. Marketing Director Frank Wall and I met with a local contractor interested in becoming signatory. I next attended Local 11's monthly executive board meeting. Under the leadership of Business Manager Gary Menzel and a dedicated group of officers, this local has consistently been growing its membership and work hours by the implementation of new initiatives and programs. I also attended Local 11's apprenticeship graduation, as well as the annual BraveHearts event that helps veterans readjust to civilian life. Back to Local 32 Rock Island where Eric Anderson and I instructed through the Leadership Training manual newly hired Office Manager Don Taets. He will now assist Luis with the local and membership record-keeping. To conclude my report, I met Local 112, Springfield, IL, Business Manager John Nicks and together we closed out the monthly CRR report and quarterly audit. Union Strong! ■
