

OSHA 500 Course Held in Las Vegas

International Union's latest group of OSHA 500 instructors completed the 40-hour training course held in Las Vegas in February. The instructors are now authorized to deliver OSHA 10-Hour and 30-Hour courses under OSHA's Outreach Training Program.

The International Union and the Roofers & Waterproofers Research & Education Joint Trust sponsored an OSHA 500 course for 33 instructors in February. OSHA authorizes instructors who complete the '500 course' to teach 10-hour and 30-hour courses.

"The 10-hour and 30-hour training is required for roofers employed on many construction sites," explains International President Kinsey M. Robinson. "Now even more members across the U.S. will have access to OSHA 10-hour and 30-hour training."
