

MRCA Convention Visits Nashville

The 58th Annual Convention and Trade Show of the Midwest Roofing Contractors Association (MRCA) was held in Nashville, TN, October 24 - 26. The convention was designed to provide up-to-date roofing information to contractors, suppliers, consultants, and home owners – anyone interested in keeping up with today's roofing industry.

In the tradition of keeping roofers informed about the state of the industry and industry trends, the convention offered educational programs, conferences, and updates that provided timely and accurate information that can help build business and save money. As always, representatives from the United Union of Roofers, Waterproofers and Allied Workers attended the event, making the most of the networking opportunities and experiencing the latest products and services available.

International Vice President Don Cardwell, International Vice President Don O'Brien, International Director of Marketing Jim Hadel, and Chris Heerlein of Hausman Metal Works & Roofing in St. Joseph, MO.

International Secretary-Treasurer Bob Danley, right, mingles with International Vice President Mike Vasey and his lovely wife, Debby.

International Marketing Director Jim Hadel, left, greets Donnie Keeling and Ronnie Keeling, brothers who work for The Young Group, Ltd., in Louisville, KY.

Jay Refieuna, left, president of Mansfield Roofing Company and member of the Roofers Labor Management Committee, enjoys catching up with International President Kinsey Robinson.

International Secretary-Treasurer Robert Danley, left, congratulates Rodney Petrick, who was elected president of the MRCA at the convention.

International Vice President Don Cardwell welcomes Carlton McGrew, president of Local 176 contractor The Young Group in Nashville, TN, and his son, Matt.